

We believe that a nation's
security,
prosperity and progress are linked to the reproductive health of its women
and men.

The evidence is clear. Investments in reproductive health pay enormous dividends for economic development, improve family and child health, protect the environment, increase security and advance women's rights.

This is why we will launch the "Call for Resolve" campaign as a formal Commitment to Action at this year's Clinton Global Initiative meeting, calling on all global leaders to increase investments in reproductive health.
